

How long will it take for my products to be produced?

group: Designing & Sourcing Products

The time it takes for a supplier to make your samples depends on the supplier and the products you are creating. Some samples take a few days to produce, while others can take several weeks. You can see the supplier's typical production time in the Creator Hub and you can always send them a message to confirm the production time.